

Landcare Research Online Collaboration Pilot

Overview

GroupSense is providing an Online Collaboration Pilot project for Landcare Research. This is supporting Scientists working in distributed teams and coordinating their work in an Integrated Science programme. It is also supporting a variety of other project teams and a Community of Practice for Spatial Data Management specialists.